

HISTORY OF VALLEY MOUNT RANCH

Valley Mount Ranch was first known as 66 Riding Stables.

66 Riding Stables was established in 1936 and was the idea of Ben & Frieda Kraus. Located just twelve miles west from St. Louis City and accessible to city folks by the famous Route 66 Highway. 66 Riding Stables offered a Good Western time for all ages, they provided hayrides for over 100 people each night, they offered guided trail rides through the foothills of the Ozarks, and had boarding for those who needed to keep their horses somewhere.

66 Riding Stables became Valley Mount Ranch in the late 30's early 40's; everything that was offered at 66 Riding Stables was still main attractions at Valley Mount Ranch. Ben & Frieda also started having Rodeos and shows at the place. The Rodeos attracted large crowds to the stadium-style grandstands. They also hosted Jumping Shows, Carnivals, Stock Car Racing and Chariot Racing, just to name a few. Ben & Frieda Kraus also organized the Famous Fireman's Rodeos and Parades in downtown St. Louis, complete with floats, clowns, and as many as 200 horses. The Ranch provided horses, wagons, and personal to help promote various attractions in St. Louis area such as Movies, Fireman's Rodeo, Parades, The Police Circus, the list is endless. There were several Famous Celebrities that Ben & Frieda Kraus came into contact with promoting the Movies, TV Series, Rodeo's, Parades, and Circuses, such celebrities as James Arness (Matt Dillon from Gunsmoke), Joel McCrae, Debbie Reynolds, Chuck Connors & Johnny Crawford (The Rifleman).

Several of these Celebrities spent the day at the Ranch such as James Arness, Chuck Connors and Johnny Crawford. Ben liked Johnny so much that before he left to go home he gave him a black & white paint horse which Johnny called Two Bits and went onto to perform tricks and various Rodeos and Parades. Debbie Reynolds took a hayride at the ranch; Vince Coleman of the St. Louis Cardinals came for a Trail Ride. This is just to name of few.

Ben and Frieda had eight children: Shirley, Gene, Darwin, Gerry, Laverne, Norita, Dotty, and Sheila. All the children had daily responsibilities to keep the Ranch running smoothly.
